

OUSE AND DERWENT PROJECT

OADP18

The dig will take place between 22nd September and 6th October, 2018 on land off Hugh Field Lane, just outside and to the north east of North Duffield. The site is some 200m from a similar site we excavated between 2012 and 2014 although the current site is far more complex: a trapezoidal, double-ditched enclosure measuring c100x50m containing what appears to be several ring ditches of differing sizes probably overlain by a later structure. There is what appears to be a second double-ditched trapezoidal enclosure close by as well as a 'droveway'. This site has the potential to be multi-phased.

If you would like to attend the dig, please get in touch with me giving your availability as soon as possible.

Already, there has been considerable interest as a result of an advert in Current Archaeology magazine and, as a result, it may be necessary to ration places on the dig from day to day. I am sending this notice out early to gauge the likely interest from our wonderful band of volunteers who will always be given preference in our plans.

I have prepared Joining Instructions which will be sent out on receipt of your expression of interest.

Best wishes

Brian

Magnetometer survey image of North Duffield site.